

I am extremely pleased with Indiana's telephone privacy, and I will be very disappointed if any federal laws are passed that would weaken the state law. I used to receive 2 or 3 telemarketing calls every night. Now I receive virtually none.

Further, I hope the FCC will do MORE to STRENGTHEN state laws such as Indiana's. For example, I now receive phone calls from recorded voices telling me it is important that I call a certain number. This should be illegal! Please act to ban these machines.

Thank you.
